

Hog Creek-Van Tassell Wetlands

Looking to the North on the dike of the upper wetland

The view to the southwest from the eastern dike of the upper wetland

The control structure that direct water into either the irrigation system or the lower wetland area

The overflow structure in which headboards can raise or lower the depth of the upper wetland

